Game On Mobile Web.

(Richmond, VA) The company that brought you an easy to use and affordable solution for managing college athletics recruiting information now takes its web software mobile.

Game On Recruiting Systems has released a mobile web version of its collegiate athletics recruiting software. The new software is optimized for use on mobile devices and brings the coaches' prospect, key contact, high school and AAU/club data to their handhelds.

Coaches can easily access their data and with a quick click can autodial or email anyone in their database.

"Our customers continue to need more mobility and we've given that to them," says Ms. Lewis, the company's Managing Director. "We've taken the main features a coach needs on the road and given them access on their PDA phone."

Game On continues to adhere to its philosophy of ease of use, flexible, and cost effective. Access to the mobile web software is free for all Game On customers.

Game On Recruiting Software is a must have for every college athletics program.
